The information used to write up gluten free content for the website was found from the Celiac Disease Foundation website(https://celiac.org/). Images that were used on the website were found from this organization as well as MorgueFile.com and FreeImages.com. Stock photos were free to use, but otherwise, the Celiac Disease Foundation gave permission to use their images. Font from DaFont.com was used, and icons came from icons8.com.

Chelsea Marasigan <chelseamarasigan429@gmail.com>   Feb 2 (9 days ago)
to Talia

Hello,

The images we wanted to use were from the gluten free recipes on the website. For our restaurant/bakery, we have an online menu section which includes the name, picture, and basic nutrition facts. We made a full menu to make it more realistic, so we pulled images from, for example, the salad and entree recipes. Are we able to use these?

...

Talia Hassid   Feb 2 (9 days ago)
to me

Hi Chelsea,

Sure, you can go ahead and use those.

Best,

http://www.dafont.com/bakery2.font

http://designbeep.com/2011/10/07/collection-of-high-quality-and-free-brick-textures/

https://icons8.com/license/

http://www.idealmagazine.co.uk/skylon-restaurant-review/